

BEER BACK TO STAY, IS HINT, DRY TEETH GNASH IN RAGE.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—A thrill of joy pulsed through all but the extra wet groups here Monday with the receipt of a strong intimation that Attorney General Daugherty is minded to uphold the beer ruling that which Attorney General Palmer bowed himself out of office. Coincidentally there was consternation and anger in the red brick citadel of the Anti-Sal League which nestled at almost in the shadow of the Capitol as if to keep a wary eye on the enemy in Congress.

The "old stuff" with "body" will be obtainable by the bottle, the gallon, and the case if the Palmer dictum stands up and there is every indication now that it will stand up. It's about the only relief anywhere in sight so far as the new Congress is concerned for the vanquished wets but for this relief they give thanks to Gambrinus and the Volstead law itself for apparently the Palmer decision, to be upheld by Mr. Daugherty is based squarely upon the law, and lawyers say that it is well high impregnable.

The wild hopes of the wets and the rosy dreams of the whole liquor-making, liquor-selling crowd are based on a misconception of the make-up of the new Congress and there is no more hope of an amelioration of the general severity of the Volstead act by the new Congress than there was of a face about by the old one. Beer arrives again through something like an accident described as providential by the wets and branded as utterly devilish by the dries, but beer in physicians prescription, for tonic use, is about the only liberation of prohibition that anybody familiar with the situation looks for. Approval of the Palmer ruling that doctors have a right to strengthen patients by prescribing real beers—not the baby one-half of one per cent delusion, but real beer will play hob as it is and tangle up the federal authorities with the state officials in many states, but that's as far as liberalization is likely to go.

The new Congress is a dry one—a trifle more arid than the body which went out of existence on March 4. Of the 100-bed new members, whose booze views have not been obtained individually, enough is known to indicate that Old John Barleycorn need not come rapping at their door. It's a funny situation for the new House of Representatives as in the old, will be any number of exponents of the 18th amendment and Volstead act who would take a drink off another man's hip any time the invitation came to them, and not a few who voted for prohibition took the precaution to stock their cellars. But as for coming right out in spang public and voting according to their real convictions—nothing doing.

JACKSON COUNTY ROAD DISTRICT VOTES BONDS.

OCEAN SPRINGS, Mar. 15.—District No. 4, of Jackson County, composed of Ocean Springs and two small country precincts, have voted favorably on the proposal to issue $180,000 road bonds for the purpose of building a concrete highway from the Pascagoula river on the east to the Harrison county line on the west, a distance of nearly 18 miles. The federal government has already appropriated a similar amount, thus bringing the total amount to $136,000. The vote in Ocean Springs was 140 for the bond issue and 14 against. The vote in Gautier precinct was solidly for the bond issue. This is another gap to be filled in the Old Spanish Trail road.

Teachers' Association Meet.

The Jackson County Teachers' Association met at Ocean Springs Tuesday with about fifteen teachers in attendance. An elaborate program was provided including a sumptuous luncheon and a field meet at the ball.

LINCOLN COUNTY (MISS.) SELLS $400,000 ROAD BONDS.

MISSISSIPPI DRY AGENTS CAN'T STOP MAKING OF WHISKY.

JACKSON, Mar. 15.—"Wild catting" the manufacture of illicit whisky, thriving in Mississippi, according to reports reaching the capitol, and it is said try as they may, the revenue men cannot keep down the manufacture of illicit whisky.

It is pointed out that the force of men on the ground in this state is not large enough. It is said that passes as whisky is being sold at a price from $6 to $15 per quart, although it may cost from 50c to $1 to manufacture, the purchaser, paying for risk taken by either distiller and middleman before the product reaches the ultimate consumer.

Russell, of Mississippi, who recently purchased a Mississippi coast home on the West Beach boulevard adjoining the Jeff Davis Soldiers Home, will occupy the place during the coming summer with his family. ## MOSS POINT PAPER COMPANY LOSES SUIT.

SENATOR HARRISON URGES WOMEN TO USE BALLOT.

GULFPORT, Mar. 15.—In a recent address delivered at the courthouse by Senator Pat Harrison has been announced as one of the "generals" from a Democratic standpoint. Some vital things of interest was discussed as to the prospects on the coast, as compared to other sections of the country.

"This," said the Senator, "is my first time to address a Mississippi audience since the woman's suffrage amendment and it must necessarily be to the women as well as to the men."

He spoke encouragingly of women in politics and urged them to register and vote. The naval station was then discussed at some length. There are some of the people, he said, opposed to the retention of the Gulfport station, but those in favor of the project are much in the majority. Senator Harrison explained the fight he had made to have the station maintained and cited as a result of his efforts, the fact that every emergency training station of the army and navy so erected during the war had been disbanded and sold, but the station at Gulfport remains.

Senator Harrison touched on the necessity of a new harbor. "The Gulfport Harbor will receive about one-fourth of the allotment as estimate," he said. He added that out of $57,000,000 that was recommended that only $15,000,000 was appropriated.

AGRICULTURAL HIGH SCHOOL SAVES $20,000.

Third Large Building Costs $60,000 and Will Be for Girl Students.

HAZLEHURST, Mar. 15.—The new building just accepted by the board of trustees of the Copiah-Lincoln Agricultural School, near Westesson, Miss., which is owned by the two counties jointly, is the third large building to be built. It cost $60,000, the trustees saving fully $20,000 by employing day labor and Eugene McCormick, of Brookhaven, as supervising architect, on a salary basis. The contract system was not used. The building is a three-story brick and stone structure, where the professor, superintendent and 100 girl boarding pupils live. The dining hall is on the lower floor with a capacity of 200 students. The building has all modern equipment, water electric lights, steam heat and ventilators. Architect McCormick was tendered a special vote of thanks by the trustees for his work on the last building just accepted by the school board of trustees. The building committee composed of Paul S. Burt, secretary; Professor T. J. Cathey, Randall Furr, Ike Williams. The school is on the county line between Lincoln and Copiah counties, south of Westesson.

BILOXIAN INTERESTED IN OLD SPANISH TRAIL ROAD.

Biloxians and other Mississippi Coast people are becoming much interested in the construction of the highway between Chief Menter and Rigolets in Louisiana, which is an important link in the construction of the Old Spanish Trail Road leading from that section to the Mississippi coast section. Under the supervision of a New Orleans contractor, a large force of men are at work on this part of the highway funds for which are being used out of a bond issue of $750,000 recently authorized in that state.

EATS 128 OYSTERS IN CONTEST.

WAYNESBORO, Mar. 14.—Waynesboro Camp, No. 143, W. O. W., recently staged an oyster eating contest which was enjoyed by many. John H. Duncan of Denham Camp, was awarded the prize, having consumed 128 extra large plants including bread and crackers in proportion also four cups of coffee and a glass of water. Hardy R. Stone of Meridian delivered the address of the evening.

REPORT SAYS MISSISSIPPI HAS 10,000 ILLICIT STILL.

Arrests have been made in every county of the district since the last September term, and a hundred "moonshine" cases are on the docket. One prominent federal officer was heard to say that at a guess there are 10,000 illicit stills in Mississippi was probable.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR SHORTAGE OF FUNDS.

Arrangements have been made with the First National and the Citizens' Bank of Meridian to cash the certificates of the teachers up to the time they were closed, the amounts to be refunded to the banks when the next school appropriation is received.

CHURCHES WANT CLOSED SUNDAY.

As a result of a set of resolutions adopted at the various churches of Biloxi calling for the enforcement of the laws of the state relative to violations of the Sabbath, churches and places of amusement will be closed there beginning next Sunday. Considerable speculation has been taken place regarding the cause of the sheriff's order, but it has been stated that no one person was responsible for the move and that three congregations collectively ordered the enforcement of restrictions.

The House by the Side of the Road.

(BY SAM WALTER FOSS (1858-1911).)

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the place of their self-content;
There are souls like stars that dwell apart,
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran—
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scornful seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life;
The men who press on with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife,
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears,
Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,
And mountains of wearisome height;
And the road passes on through the long afternoon
And stretches away to the night.
And still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice
And weep with the strangers that moan,
Nor live in my house by the side of the road
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
It's here the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scornful seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Thru all the years since the French
First settled the Mississippi Gulf Coast its attractions have held the favor of the American people. It is now a social center, in winter and summer, for the people of the midland country, and a sportsman's paradise. Perhaps, Mayor Sutter, had some such thoughts in mind when he adopted this sentiment: "A Spot where exiled Angels might forbear for awhile to mourn for Paradise."

Pass Christian lies on the Gulf guarding the Pass into Bay St. Louis.
In a pine grove on a shady point overlooking the Bay and the Gulf, and directly on the Trail.

Pass Christian is on the Old Spanish Trail and in a section rich in romance and tradition. Its attractions have been sung in prose and verse, but it remains for each of us to discover for ourselves the charms of its balmy climate and the comforts its tempered Gulf breezes bring to the summer vacationist and the winter traveler.

There is a peculiar fascination to the Pass, a magnetism that draws people back again and again and that cannot be explained but only marveled at. Perhaps it is the restfulness that soothes the ear and the eye; the restfulness that comes from the sound of the waves as they beat gently upon the white sands of the beach;
the restfulness that comes from the crooning of the winds as they mingle with the leaves of the oaks and the magnolias that lift their faces in primal majesty to the stern blue, or yet perhaps from the scent of the pines, sweet sighing of the oaks, or it is the restfulness that comes with the realization that here the Creator wrought well; that here land, sea and sky blend into a picture—the alluring subtlety of which no artist can imprison on canvas, nor poet reduce to rhyme and meter.
Yet, whatever it may be, it has accomplished marvelous cures for the shaken nerves and weary brains.

But while I might continue to sing the praises of Pass Christian, we have something more to offer the traveler than the charms of the coast. Here the disciple of Ike Walton will have an opportunity to test his skill without drawing on his imagination. In the Sound may be caught the speckled trout, Spanish mackerel, channel bass, sheepshead and red fish, while a few miles out in the Sound the more adventurous will find the gamey Tarpon, the sport of kings. In the Back Bay and the Bayous and up Wolf River all species of fresh water fish abound.

As an illustration of what may be accomplished a recent copy of the local paper told of 1320 pounds of fish being landed with hook and line on a straight pole, by one man, consisting principally of red fish, sheepshead and trout. One of our best breakfast fish is the flounder, the spearing of which is a picturesque bit of night work; in the summertime
"floundering" parties are very popular with the young people of both sexes.

For the "Mighty Nimrod" we have in the great cut-over land in our rear an abundance of dove and quail, while in the river swamps squirrels
abound.

Bathing may be indulged in with safety by all. The shallow waters out from the beach with its hard sand bottom makes ideal bathing for the children or the timid, while outside the fringe of islands is the finest surf bathing in the world.
The motorist will find some splendid roads. More are building, and soon the whole stretch of the Old Spanish Trail in Mississippi will be hard surfaced. The recently established ferry across the Bay of St.
Louis eliminates 31 miles of detour and completes the Trail to the Louisiana state line from the East. With the Motor League of Louisiana, and the people of St. Tammany Parish hurry the completion of the last link in Louisiana, which adjoins the Mississippi state line, we feel that the completion of the Trail eastward from New Orleans is assured. This will open up a new era for the Mississippi Coast towns and soon our hotels will be taxed to their capacity by the auto tourists traveling the Old Spanish Trail.

Already we are anticipating the great influx of tourists and are planning to build at this point hotels that will equal in every way the famous hostelries of Florida and California.
In conclusion let me state that there is an old saying; "that he who visits the Mississippi Coast never dies until he has returned again," and especially is this true of him who eats the succulent "Mullet."

"Who trades these quiet, sunlit paths shall come again
To find in them the peace of God
The joy of men."

be grown and taken care of as cheaply as a small one. Mississippi should grow enormous herds of sheep, but they must be protected from dogs, the cur dogs that roam the fields of the state, they must be protected from lice and properly housed at lambing time.

The L & N Railroad Brings Good Northern Farmers To Better Farm Lands In The South

For many years the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has conducted an educational program of solicitation among farmers all over the North in a systematic effort to induce them to move South. By personal representatives and through the printed word in such forms as magazines, farm papers, booklets, folders, letters, etc., has this railroad painted the attractions of the South to the farmer who lived in the colder sections of the North and Central West. Tangible evidence of the success of this work is seen in happy homes and flourishing communities all over the territory served by the L. & N. from Northern Alabama to and including the entire Gulf Coast, marking pioneer development in these sections and adding millions to the general wealth.

The Industrial and Immigration Department of the L. & N. Serves Both the Farmer and the Community

It renders a distinct service to both the farmer and to the community in which he lives. Its agents are not satisfied until the farmer has found the exact piece of land he requires and has been instructed how to make a profitable crop.

The Louisville & Nashville has nothing to sell except its services as a common carrier; does not own lands or mines or other things in which the public is invited to invest. This department is conducted entirely for the good of the community and of the individual.

LOUISVILLE, KY., JANUARY, 1921

LIME STONE SOIL

ONE of the strongest factors employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to induce the farmers of less productive sections of the United States to move to the South is the monthly publication "North and South."

This magazine is owned and published by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company and is unique in its field, as it is devoted entirely to the industrial and agricultural resources of the South and circulates among thousands of farmers in Northern localities.

Among the special booklets which have been published by the Industrial and Immigration Department of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad are: L. & N. Farmer's Handbook No. 1, which tells how to store and market sweet potatoes; L. & N. Farmer's Handbook No. 2, which gives valuable advice on poultry problems; L. & N. Farmer's Handbook No. 3, which has been of particular service to apple growers throughout the South; and a special booklet, also published by this railroad, on the Satsuma Orange.

This department has issued valuable bulletins to stock producers and has given wide circulation to a table showing the year-round temperatures in many Northern localities as compared to the delightful temperate conditions that exist throughout the South.

Col. Luke, sporting editor of the New Orleans Daily States, one of the best known and most quoted sporting writers in the country, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis Sunday, visiting the Atlanta baseball boys in their camp at the Klock hotel. Many prominent visitors in the world of sports will visit here during the Cracker's stay.

Mr. Morgan Blake, the talented young writer and editor who presides over the sporting page of the Atlanta Journal, reached here Sunday morning and is at the Klock Hotel, representing his publication during the training season of the Atlanta ball players. He made many friends while here last year, and finds a warm welcome on every side.

Mr. Edward Fahey was brought home from New Orleans Monday night, the ninth day after his operation at the Hotel Dieu in that city for hernia. His operation was quite a serious one, involving more than for the trouble stated above, and we are glad to note that his condition is such that he will soon be on the high road to recovery.

Rev. Father Neilus Downing, former assistant pastor at the local Catholic church, and one of the best and popularly known priests along the Gulf Coast, came over from Biloxi Wednesday night and filled the pulpit of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, delivering a splendid sermon on the Holy Name of Jesus. It was Wednesday and regular church attendance was sparse and it is regretted more did not hear the discourse. Father Downing has recovered from his serious illness and operation and his visit here was an occasion for a warm welcome.

Mr. Cliff Wheatley, sporting editor-in-chief of the Atlanta Daily Constitution, has returned to Bay St. Louis to his labor and love of last year—chronicling the every doing of the Atlanta Baseball Club here in training for the 1921 season. He is a gifted and ambitious young newspaper man, and while he already has a national reputation as a sporting writer he will be heard from the coming year as owner and head of some big metropolitan daily. Cliff Wheatley has scores of friends here and he says he feels as much at home in Bay St. Louis as in Atlanta—and we are glad he feels that way.

WANTED: To buy large Japanese bushes. Phone 177, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Many attendants from across the bay upon Circuit Court for Hancock County this week took advantage of the ferry service and motor to and from daily, appreciating the convenience thus offered. The ferry in time will be found quite serviceable in many instances to and from between the two counties in many instances during the entire year.

Capt. Drackett reports business improving all the time. It is quite certain during the entire summer the traffic will be more than expected.

PIANO for rent; good condition. P. O. Box 144, Bay St. Louis.

Bohd Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis held last night $100,000.00 worth of seawall bonds were sold. This means the early building of the seawall.

Bay St. Louis' baseball season formally opens tomorrow with S. C. vs Citizens' Bank of New Orleans. An admission of only twenty-five (25) cents will be charged and there ought to be a large attendance. The schedule for this season includes L. S. U., Mississippi, Pensacola, etc. Admission to many of the games will be fifty (50) cents, in order to help defray the heavy expenses of bringing teams here. Season tickets costing $4.00 may be secured at the College. Last year's schedule comprised about 15 thorough games. Be wise; get a season ticket.

There was quite an unusual and interesting ceremony at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf last evening, when the fourteen new stations of the Way of the Cross were formally received and blessed. It is a ceremony seldom witnessed in a lifetime by the parishioners, for it only occurs when a new church receives its stations or new ones replace the old.

The new stations are not only ornamental but beautiful in design and rich in color; massive, and veritable works of art. The cost is approximately $1500.00, and these were donated to the church by two ladies of the parish.

The Echo job printing department has in preparation and about ready to go to press the 1921 catalogue of the Hancock County Fair, to be held in this city during the early part of October, with the hope to soon have the same issued and distributed over the county. Two thousand copies will be printed. The catalogue is to be unusually attractive and it is hoped to make the Fair exceed all previous successes. Advertisers who have signed contracts for space and have not yet sent in their copy for advertisements are respectfully urged to do so. Their failure to do so is so far regarding the issue of the catalogue.

Mr. J. S. Rester, one of the prominent and most progressive farmers of Hancock County, came down from Caesar Thursday and spent the day at the County seat. Mr. Rester reports a heavy downpour of rain in his vicinity Sunday night, washing roads away completely in many instances and drowning of sheep by high water. He related in one instance where fifty head were drowned, to say nothing of a similar occurrence in other places. "It must have been a cloudburst," says Mr. Rester, "for the damages thereby wrought is considerable and cannot be estimated. The county sustained heavy loss by the washing away of roads."

Today is known as St. Joseph's Day, and many observances in Europe and in this country include the custom of preparing a large spread of good food to be eaten by the poor. Two elaborate spreads of this kind were prepared yesterday afternoon and blessed this morning by the pastor of the local Catholic church, as per custom. These spreads this year in Bay St. Louis are respectively at the homes of Mr. Vito Guercia, in Main street, and Mr. Vito Guercia, in Union street. The religious ceremony occurs at 12 o'clock today, when the characters of Jesus, Mary and Joseph are impersonated with all the solemnity possible, and the poor are fed. These spreads are most elaborated. The tables are laden with a variety of excellent things to eat—dishes representing the very best of the culinary art.

HANCOCK COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES.

Met in This City Monday Morning and Has Been in Session all Week—Grand Jury Unusually Diligent.

Spring term of Circuit Court for Hancock County has been in session all week up to this writing, Friday and will continue till the time of limit, tomorrow.

Court convened at the courthouse in this city Monday morning, with Hon. D. M. Graham on the bench. District Attorney Cowan representing the state, and Sheriff E. Van Whitfield and Clerk A. A. Kergison in their accustomed places. Deputy Sheriff Jos. V. Bontemps has been acting at his post.

Ely Russ, of Logtown, was selected foreman of the grand jury, which has been in session practically all the week and is rather unusual. But it is understood the grand inquisitors have been unusually diligent and have left nothing coming under their jurisdiction undone. It is apparent that the matter of illicit liquor manufacturing and selling has claimed much of their time and attention and it is their purpose to neglect no source where there is a possibility of ferreting out the law violator.

In fact, it is understood, the county has been combed and with a fine toothed comb, and on one end to the other and if any dictaments have escaped the jury's attention it is of no fault of its members. The report shows that every avenue under the jury's jurisdiction has been investigated and gone thru in thorough manner.

With two stills captured and the paraphernalia in the office of Sheriff E. Van Whitfield, with a supply of "white lightning" as further evidence and the number of indictments and court calendar and the number of cases called for hearing, that this character of violation of the law is predominant there is no doubt. This particular character of law violation is not only charged in Hancock county, but the columns of the daily press the country over are simply teeming with accounts of stills captured, illicit selling until the chronicling of these things have become mon as to lose all news value. The surprise is in the fact the daily newspaper continues giving so much space to these similar violations.

Rufus Carter, colored, residing at the Klock hotel, was charged and convicted of illicit manufacturing and selling and given a sentence of six months in the state penitentiary.

Tobe Guiser, colored, of Westonia, was convicted of petit larceny; fined $25, and costs of court.

Clarence Hard, of Bay St. Louis, was found guilty in two cases of assault and battery; fined $10 and costs of court.

Grand Jury Report. The State of Mississippi, Hancock County.

To Honorable D. M. Graham, Judge of the Second Circuit Court District of the State of Mississippi: We the Grand Jurors, empaneled at and for the regular term of the Term, of the Hancock County Circuit Court, beg to submit this report.

After listening with pleasure and interest to the able and instructive charge of your Honor, we retired to our quarters and began our labors. We have remained in session five days; have examined 94 witnesses and have returned 11 indictments.

We have examined the jail and court house and various books of the county officers and in the limited time at our command, for this work we found same in good condition. The jail being in exceptionally good condition.

We wish to state the roads of the county are in very good condition, in fact as good as could be expected with weather conditions. Beat No. 4 not being as good as other beats, this being due, so we are advised, to the fact that no contract had been let for said beat.

We find that but few crimes have been committed in the county, with the exception of the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors. This law is being violated more than any other law on our statutes. We are also advised that imitation liquor in shape of patent medicine is being sold. We have been unable to get any proof against this, but we commend that the officers do all in their power to prevent same. We further find that a great majority of the citizens of the county and the institutions therein have been doing all in their power to help us in our manufacturing of liquor and we believe that if this spirit will continue that it will be but a short while before this will be stopped or reduced to a minimum in the county.

We wish to call the attention to the Board of Supervisors to the fact that the facilities around the court house for ladies around the court house is not what it should be. Ladies have no place to wait or rest while waiting to be called as witnesses. We have looked into this matter and are remedied in this way. The Tax Assessor could be moved to the office of the clerk of the Chancery and Circuit Court, being the first room to the left as you go into the court house. The Chancery Clerk room and we find that this office is but little used. The present room of the Tax Assessor, having room next to it could then be used for the ladies and in our opinion this would better conditions considerably.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the Kiln (Consolidated School) is poorly equipped in so far as fire escapes and exits are concerned. While the building is a splendid building otherwise, we are advised that it is deficient in this regard.

We wish to call the attention of the Kiln Consolidated School Trustees to this condition and hope that they remedy this condition at once and we the event that this is not attended to at once that the County Prosecuting Attorney take the necessary steps to see that the law is complied with.

We wish to thank the bailiffs and deputies and the officers who have co-operated with us in our work. But for their efforts we would not have been able to do the work that we have done.

Now having finished our labor we pray that this be received as our final report and we be discharged.

Respectfully submitted, L. K. RUSS, Foreman. We respectfully pray that attach-

EASTER SUNDAY AT CHURCH OF OUR LADY OF THE GULF.

At the church of Our Lady of the Gulf there will be the usual three masses Easter Sunday morning. The first mass at 7 o'clock, when the members of the Order of Knights of Columbus will receive Holy Communion in a body, possibly some two hundred men. The members will occupy the front pews on the gospel side of the church, as is the annual custom, headed by Grand Knight Jos. O. Mason.

Second mass, for the children will take place at 8 o'clock, with special sermon either by the pastor or one of the assistants.

The high mass will occur at 10 o'clock, when there will be special Easter features. Mrs. John A. Mason, organist and director of the choir, has in preparation a new mass. First mass in G, by Rosevelt, with violin accompaniment by Miss L. Armstrong and Mrs. H. G. Glover, soprano soloist. The choir will be augmented with the boy soprano, belonging to Bro. Louis' school.

This particular mass by Rosevelt is unusually brilliant and its first presentation here Easter will be rendered by a choir of many voices, all specially trained for the occasion, recent acquisitions to Mrs. Green's organization. Public cordially invited.

MISSISSIPPI LOSES ONE.

As the next legislature, to assemble in January, 1922, will be called upon to recast the Congressional districts of the state, cutting them down from eight to seven districts, doubtless a brief history of their formation in the past will be of interest, says the Jackson Clarion-Ledger.

That means that one of the eight Representatives will be dropped, and that one district will be absorbed by the others.

The reduction has been caused not so much by loss of population in Mississippi but because of the methods of reapportionment adopted by the Congress, which decided not to increase the Representatives, regardless of the increase of population of the country, as shown by the 1920 census.

Under the apportionment of 1840, Mississippi was allowed four Representatives in Congress, the first district commencing up in the Northeast corner of the state at now.

In 1850 the representation was increased to five, and was not changed until 1870, when an additional district was formed, making 6 in all. While there were many changes made in the formation of the districts in 1876 the number was not increased, just a little rearranging to accommodate favorites.

In 1890 the number of district was increased to seven. Under the census of 1900 another district was formed, making eight instead of seven, and that stood for 20 years.

A reduction has been ordered in 13 states, Mississippi among them; and the next legislature will reapportion the districts of the state, abolishing one and distributing the counties so as to make seven districts.

Under this arrangement one of the Representatives from this state will be dropped, and it will either be Rankin of the 1st, Lowrey of the 2nd, Humphreys of the 3rd, Sison of the 4th, Collins of the 5th, Jackson of the 6th, Quin of the 7th or Collier of the 8th.

Humphreys is the senior member of congress from this state, having been elected to the 58th Congress; Collins and Sison come next; having been elected in 1910; Paul Johnson was elected in 1918; and Rankin Lowrey and Collins were elected in 1920.
